Step 2: Turn on editing mode in your module area/course

Click the 'Edit mode' button displayed near the upper right of the module area/course.

Step 3: Click 'Add an activity or resource' link

1. When editing mode is turned on, navigate to the section where you want to add the group choice activity.
2. Next, click the 'Add an activity or resource' button displayed at the bottom of the section.

Step 4: Choose the Group choice activity

Search "group choice" in the pop up activities and resources search box and select the "Group Choice" activity by clicking the name.

Step 5: Add name and description

Input the name and detailed instructions in the description area for your students to better understand how you want them to choose their own group. e.g. there are 5 groups, each group can only have 10 group members, please finish selecting your group by [date and time].

Step 6: Miscellaneous settings

Please go through all the settings to make sure you are happy with the options.

"Allow enrollment to multiple groups": decide if the students can choose only one group or several. By default is disabled, which means students can only select one group. You can enable this option to allow multiple groups.

"Publish results":

If you don't want students to know who is in the groups, select "Do not publish results to students". If you only want them to see after they choose, select "Show results to students only after they answer".

"Privacy of results": Please select the option from the dropdown list to decide if to show full results or partial.

"Allow choice to be updated": If you allow your students to change their choice, please change this to "Yes". By default is "No".

"Show column for unanswered": If you want to see who is not answered yet, please change this to "Yes". By default is "No".

"Limit the number of responses allowed": If you want to set number limit, please change this to "Enable". By default is "Disable".

Once you've enabled the setting, you will be able to set the number in the "General limitation".

Tips:

You can always add or remove groups from the settings. But it is better not to change the groups after students start to save their choices. Your changes to the groups will confuse the students about their saved choices.
