Can I send a notification to students after I upload a file on my module page?

Yes, of course. You can send an notification like the example below to your students.

An Example of the Notification

To do that, please click on the "edit" button of the resources that you have added. Then click "notifications".

Choose the group that you would like to send the notification to and add additional comments if you would like.

Recipients

Students enrolled in this course (6).

No groups/groupings

Individual participants

Kenneth Simmons
Example Student 2
Example Student3
Yezi Yang

Content

Subject: Notification: Olivia's Test Module - test

Message body:
Yiqun Sun wishes to draw your attention to the following activity/resource available via Olivia's Test Module:

test

Additional comments (optional):

The image shows a notification configuration interface. At the top is a 'Recipients' section with three radio button options: 'Students enrolled in this course (6)', 'No groups/groupings', and 'Individual participants'. A red arrow points from the text 'Choose the group that you would like to send the notifications to' to the first option. Below these options is a list of names: 'Kenneth Simmons', 'Example Student 2', 'Example Student3', and 'Yezi Yang'. The next section is 'Content', which includes a 'Subject' line and a 'Message body' section. The message body contains a standard notification text and a blue link labeled 'test'. A red arrow points from the text 'The standard message is displayed here. Add additional comments in the textbox below if you would like' to the 'test' link. Below the message body is an 'Additional comments (optional):' text box. A red arrow points from the same explanatory text to this text box.
