Quantitative Research Methods Computational Social Sciences International Political Economy Domestic Politics of Foreign Aid

Dept: Educational Development Unit

Introduction: 4
I joined the Department of International Studies as a Lecturer in March 2023. Before obtaining my Ph.D. at the State University of New York at Binghamton in December 2022, I worked for a policy advocacy NGO in the field of international development in South Korea from 2012 to 2014.
My research broadly focuses on International Political Economy, Domestic Politics of Foreign Aid, Quantitative Research Methods, and Computational Social Sciences. My work explores how international political and economic considerations influence domestic processes that drive donors' foreign aid decisions. In my work, I explore the consequences of ideologically driven aid choices in terms of budgets, policies, and programs.

Step 1: click "General" to expand "Profile" tab;

Step 3: input details in "Research area";

Step 4: in "Introduction" area, artifacts like images, hyper-link, videos can be uploaded in the rich text area.

Remember to click "Submit" at the bottom of the page to save the changes.

Tips:

Once the users have been uploaded by Admin, teachers are able to login and edit their profile. However, teachers and the admin should be on the same page of the selection start date. Once the activity has been started, no edits or changes are allowed until the end of the Random selection.
